

← course home \(/table-of-contents\)

You have a function `rand7()` that generates a random integer from 1 to 7. Use it to write a function `rand5()` that generates a random integer from 1 to 5.

`rand7()` returns each integer with equal probability. `rand5()` must also return each integer with equal probability.

Want more coding interview help?

Check out interviewcake.com for more advice, guides, and practice questions.